

Dr. Carol Ann Baily 615-478-9998

email : CarolAnn.Baily@mtsu.edu

Education:

Certificat d'études françaises, Université de Neuchâtel, Switzerland M.A. in French from Vanderbilt University Ed. D. in Higher Education Administration from Vanderbilt University

Experience:

Previously taught French for: Belmont University, Middle Tennessee State University, Vanderbilt University, Watkins Institute, Centennial Club, St. Cecilia Academy, St. Paul's School, French for Children.

Services Offered:

Currently offering: Aventures en France, a conversational French class based on the Lozanov Method. This course meets in small groups of 4-8 where they activate the conversational vocabulary they have listened to on cds provided with the text. This method allows students to learn to speak the French language more quickly than traditional methods.

Classes generally available in the evenings or on the weekends. If you are interested in a day-time class, a private instruction rate would apply unless we can assemble a group of 4 or more to meet at the same time.

Costs:

Group class cost: $350 for 10 classes (2 hours each), plus $50 for the text and cds.
Private instruction cost: $35 per hour, plus $50 for the text and cds.